At that time action will be taken with regard to a budget as approved by the District's directors for the fiscal year July 1, 1973-June 30, 1974 (See warrant, page 3.)

COMMENTS FROM THE OFFICE OF THE TOWN MANAGER

The article pertaining to discount on taxes will be in the Town Meeting Warrant again this year with no recommendation from either the selectmen or budget committee attached.

We have found the cost to the town is considerably more than interest on borrowed money would be for the short time we would have to have the funds. In 1972 discounts amounted to some in excess of $5000.00. Our interest rate for tax anticipation money needed in 1973 is 2.4%.

The discounts have prompted taxpayers to pay approximately $200,000 prior to Sept. 1. This $200,000 borrowed at the 2.4% interest rate would cost us $400 per month. We would have to plan on using the money four months at a total cost of $1,600. This figure has to be compared to the $3,000 cost of discounts.

The town office will be open Feb. 19. Washington's Birthday, as the State Automobile Registration Offices will also be open.

The last Saturday of February we will be in the office from 9:00 a. m. until 12 noon for the convenience of those who must pay their exercise taxes.

CARNIVAL QUEEN — Miss Teri Lea Mason, above, was winner of the annual Bethel Winter Carnival Queen Contest and was crowned at the coronation program last Friday evening in Bingham Auditorium. Miss Mason is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mason Jr.

WINTER CARNIVAL WAS COMPLETE SUCCESS

The Annual Bethel Winter Carnival was counted a complete success according to Mrs. Norma Jodrey, general chairman of the event.

The week end long carnival began Friday evening with the Shaw Brothers entertaining a full house at Bingham Auditorium and acting as masters of ceremonies for the Queen Contest. The six contestants in the contest all looked lovely and displayed considerable talent and the judges had difficulty in deciding the winner. Finally Rick and Ron Shaw announced that Miss Teri Lea Mason of Northwest Bethel had been chosen 1973 Carnival Queen with Miss Jane Baker of Sunday River her runner up. The new queen was crowned by the 1972 Carnival Queen, Miss Betty Howe.

The carnival continued on Saturday with a cross county ski tour from Sunday River Inn to the Artists Covered Bridge with refreshments at the bridge. The tour was attended by six families who all thoroughly enjoyed the activity.

The Snow Twisters snowmobile parade and trail ride had 110 machines participating. A good crowd was on hand up and down Main Street to witness the parade.

Skating at the Crescent Park rink has enjoyed by many families Saturday evening and "raved as the perfect end to a busy day."

The snowshoe races held on the Gould Academy athletic field were greatly enjoyed by participants and spectators alike. The addition of two sleigh races at the Sunday afternoon snowshoe races made many families among the town's younger residents. The Chamber is deeply indebted to Dick Douglass for the work he put into renting the pony track and to his ponies, Dot and Bob for providing the perfect end to the carnival weekend.

Leaving town returned home Saturday from Randolph Community Hospital.

Local incumbents who are seeking re-election are unopposed. Samuel H. Timberlake will seek another three-year stint in the combined offices of selectman/assessor. Current S. A. D. 44 directors Clarence Remington and John K. Brown are seeking re-election. For the one year term as fire ward, Robert L. Davis is unopposed in his re-election bid.

Three candidates will seek the two-year unexpired term on the board of selectmen/assessors. Filing nomination petitions were: Bradley R. Barker, Dana Bean and S. Ross Timberlake.

A pair of candidates are to vie for the one year remaining of a term on the S. A. D. 44 board: John C. Anderson and Brian M. Stowell.

SECOND ANNUAL SNOWSHOE RACES ARE SUCCESS

The second annual snowshoe races, part of the Bethel Winter Carnival, sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce was a huge success. Held on Gould Academy's athletic field Sunday afternoon under nippy conditions, the competition was close, with four teams represented.

The Gould faculty champions of 1972 were defeated by the Bethel Painters, namely Dennis Wheeler, Donald Laxton, Greg Spangenberg and Keith Bartlett.

The competition consisted of 50, 75, and 100 yard dashes, an obstacle race and finally a relay race involving all team members.

In the free for all races, Chuck Hurd and Jeff Bartlett were dead-end winners. In a race of "first timers" on snowshoes Bev Gasser won the ladies dash.

Team standings: Painters, 16 points; Gould Faculty, 11; Innkeepers, 10; Chasbournes, 8.

During the afternoon Dick Douglass and his ponies gave sleigh rides around the athletic field for the youngsters.

GREENWOOD CITY

— Mrs. Collie Morgan, Corres. —

It is mid February, the time that most of us get winter-weary. But I have watched the sun and it is noticeably swinging north. A few warm days make us look and hope for the coming of the red wing black bird or the robin. We would like to forget February and bring in spring but down in our hearts we know we aren't going to get it—not yet.

Standing in the road I looked across the pond to where the morning sun-fire was rekindling itself at the base of the trees. Soon all trees were enveloped. The needles of the pines, how they shone with the light coursing up and down them!

Treading cautiously, I went down the bank of the road to the pond. Just at the left stood a few stick-tights, the barbed seed plant, which so cleverly fulfills its destiny in making one's clothes a means of conveyance, so wayfarers detest them.

Then I crossed to the far shore. At times the ice thundered like a cannon, far off, which I have heard it do so many times.

The same dour and ponderous boulder with wrinkled visage soberly huddled beneath the trees where I often enter the forest. It did not seem pleased with its surroundings or with what it saw. At its right a pile of dissected cones on an old stump showed where a squirrel had been feeding.

A nuthatch and several chickadees flew above the forest floor.

A trail of tiny foot prints had crossed the pond and entered the forest here. The coon had enjoyed his evening out and I wondered if he were the same that came to my window bird-feeder a few evenings before. I saw him there took my flashlight and went out. He dropped to the ground with the small hanging feeder and the small bag in his paws. But at my appearance he left both and went beyond the garage. Sometime near midnight I heard him again but this time there were no suit bags. I'm sure he enjoyed the bread I had left instead.

In the south a few billowing clouds showed above the hills and in the distance, I could hear the falls of the mountain brook. Going among the beeches, I crossed the white crusty carpet to a place where I enjoyed the brook, the pool, and the falls. I sometimes wonder why this water-fall always fascinates me. I know other larger ones. Maybe it is because I wonder just how long it will be before it fades to nothing; its mission done; sinking back into the forest which so patiently waits. Perhaps I should just accept the fact without a why. Some things should not be analyzed. The morning sun was just right for a few pictures.

The rainbow arch following the upper ice where icicles hung, will forever be my own.

The clear, brimming, little pool, at the foot of the hills was pebbly and sandy so that I could detect how deep it was. The little creek was gliding clear and beautiful through trees with spongy rootlets, on, to the pond.

Above the waterfall, the summer scene raced through my mind for I have followed this brook several times. I could visualize, clearly.

each bend and glide, pitch and pool. From far up in the hills. I could "see" the forest, springs, rocks, trails, and even the old bridge of logs made by some woodsman so long ago. But today, the icicles glistened, shimmered, and the water tumbled, displaying a radiating beauty, with no wind to stir the calm; sun shine over all.

When I left, I followed a ridge toward the south for a ways. Going again to the ice at the south end of the pond I looked up to the cliff where the lady slippers grow in summer amid the pale corrydolls; this with graceful foliage, dim with whitish bloom; its delicate, rosy, yellow tipped flowers betraying their kinship to the bleeding hearts and Dutchman's breeches. Today this cliff was a mass of ice and icicles fastened to its whole side.

Toward the swampy south end of the cattails, their withered leaves in intermittent rustling.

While furry spikes reach high above the snow, warm streaks of brown are here arrayed in contrast.

With winter's whiteness and a cold, blue sky; Here one may see the Master Plan unfolding.

In sureness of fulfillment by-and-by," E. Dan Partello Facing the north now, Over the mountain was basking in the sun-drenched valley.

I crossed the pond, climbed the bank, and went into my yard where the birds and squirrels were having a busy time. It was a good way in which to end a beautiful morning. Here, where Maine's pine still flourishes and the jay still screams.

ANDOVER FIREMEN CHOOSE FIRE CHIEF FOR COMING YEAR

On January 5, 1973, the members of the Andover Fire Department held a meeting for the purpose of choosing the fire chief they wanted to work under for the coming year.

We, as firemen feel it is our duty to inform you as voters of the town of Andover that the fire chief should be elected on qualifications and not by popularity. We also feel that we should have a voice in the upcoming election. The only voice we can have at present is an election at the fire station to present to you, the voters, our choice for fire chief. The firemen urge your support.

We, as members of the Andover Fire Department, present R. DONALD FRENCH as our choice for Fire Chief in the March 1973 election.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

No More Donations for Bethel Headstart

Oxford County has $54,000.00 to divide equally among Norway, Fryeburg, Dixfield and Bethel to operate Headstart Centers.

Just about a year ago when I was representing the Bethel Center at Policy Council meetings, I was told that we would have to raise $1,000.00 in each of the four areas by August 1972 if we wanted to keep our Program. Otherwise one center would have to close. All money that was raised was to be put in a County Wide Fund, and to be used where needed.

Myself, along with two others who represented the Bethel Area did everything possible to raise this amount of money so we could keep the center operating another year. We worked long hard hours on different projects, such as rummage sales, food sales, and raffles. We also typed up 150 letters and mailed to all businesses, merchants, clubs, and organizations requesting donations. We never raised the $1,000.00.

However, the money that was raised was never put into the county fund. I didn't feel that money raised in Bethel should be used in one of the other Centers. How would you Bethel People feel about the money you donated being used in some other town?

I have gone over the Headstart Budget for 1972-1973, and I do not see any reason why the Bethel Center should have to raise any money to keep the program functioning.

As I said before, we never raised the $1,000.00, yet all four Headstart Centers are still operating. If they could operate without this money, why were we told it had to be raised?

There has been a great deal of talk and criticism about the money that was raised. Along with the talk and criticism there has been accusations made that the money has been used for something besides Headstart.

I would like to take this opportunity to thank each and everyone that gave so generously to the Bethel Headstart Program last year. All I want you all to know that the money has not been spent, but is in a local bank. IT WILL BE USED IN THE BETHEL AREA ONLY!!!

Despite my involvement in the Headstart Program, I feel many generous efforts have been in vain. Due to poor management and misallocation of funds, I further believe that for the Program to function properly, a thorough audit and review should be carried out. Then all concerned will have a full knowledge of how Headstart operates.

The Headstart Program is funded by your dollars and mine. WE HAVE A RIGHT TO KNOW.

Dear Editor and Citizens of Bethel:

Running for an office in a local government can be quite a complex affair. It calls for careful consideration of the various interests and grievances the public may have. And this can be very difficult if the candidate is ignorant of these interests. I have since asked myself, "Is it the public that needs to be informed or is the people at the Town Office?" Hopefully the answer is "It's a two-way street."

Those people that realize that may benefit greatly. Those that don't may remain content or problemed, depending on which attitude is most expressive at the time.

As a candidate for the two-year term of Selectman, I thought I would take this opportunity to give you my impressions of activity in local politics.

First of all, it is a generally accepted (yet unspoken) rule that in a small conflict in the political arena should be kept at a minimum. There is nothing so damaging as personal attacks and "mud-slinging" in getting the support of the public. No one likes a "rabble rouser" and no one is asked to if their ideas are obviously unfit or can't be applied constructively for the benefit of the town's members. That's possibly why participation in town affairs is not high. Conflict doesn't have social appeal, especially if the result is alienation.

A second point worth mentioning here is the "Orator" image a candidate may be handed in the course of his campaign. "He may be a brilliant speaker but there is nothing in his words but letters," is an example of how some candidates come across.

It does seem possible that if a politician just spends his time doing a lot of fast talking he's not going to be too effective, at least not in politics. I am inclined to agree with this and hope that by writing this letter and by being moderately vocal, I'll soon be listening to quite a few people with things on their mind. Listening is my first preference.

It would be an unwise move in my position for me to pretend to know all the problems of the citizenry, but you the citizens do. In the course of the next few weeks before the elections I hope to hear from those who have constructive suggestions to make in relation to town affairs or who are having problems that they feel should be dealt with in the future by the town Selectmen.

Remember: Selectmen's meetings are open to the public.

Sincerely,
Ross Timberlake

TELSTAR R. H. S. NEWS
There will be a junior high basketball game, Friday at 5:30 p. m. with St. Joseph's School from Lewiston. The "B" team will precede the varsity contest. A dance for grades 5-8 will immediately follow, featuring WRUM's No. 1 disk jockey, Tom Ford. Admission of seventy-five cents will get you into both events. Come help support the junior high student council's class trip to Boston.

STUDENT COUNCIL NEWS
The week was highlighted by the 1973 winter carnival and related activities. The Junior class managed to squeeze out a victory, but the night's seniors remain the best class this school will see in a long time. I challenge any class of the future to leave as much of an impression on the district as our class has.

In the interscholastic competitive activities Telstar put in a good week with the ski teams all coming close to some formidable competition, the basketball teams closing a productive season, and the Math League team winning another meet. In the case of the boys' varsity ski team, they came in second to Livermore Falls in the Western Maine Regional meet. The state meet is next week, and I have heard through the grapevine that Telstar will have its revenge. Our Math League team is now in the neighborhood of this place in the state after two consecutive wins and a string of strong meets. We have six seniors in the top forty listings for the state.

In honor of the fantastic job done by the fall sports teams there will be a banquet on the 17th of the month for the Cross-Country, Football and Cheerleading squads.

The student council has had a series of discussions on the state of Telstar's "system," which has changed somewhat in each of the five years of the school's existence. We hope to come up with some constructive ideas for next year's system, if indeed it does change again next year.

We have entered phase two of renewed quest for a smoking area. Phase two includes the preparation of the official presentation to be made to the Board of Directors. Phase three will be the presentation.

—Mike Davis, Correspondent

Michael Davis was omitted from the Telstar nominees for "Outstanding Teenagers of America for 1973" announced last week. Other Telstar nominees are Terry Berryment, Steven Dombkowski, and Randall Littlefield.

Dr. Joseph Devitt of the State Department of Education visited the school recently to review progress in the program. He was pleased to observe continued innovative practices at Telstar.

WISCASSET/GOULD IN CLASS
MAINE FINAL SATURDAY

Huskies Defeat Rangeley 58-47 in the defending Wiscasset and in the Western Maine "D" final in the Edward Little Gym at Auburn, 4 p. m. Saturday. The "rubber" duel between the two teams who split regular season games.

The Redskins had trouble shooting from the outside, 63-57 in the night's semi-final opener. The Huskies from Bethel, in the final for the third time in four years, had too much experience for Rangeley and took an easy decision.

Gould bothered the Lakers with man-to-man defense at the start, switched to a zone when they commanded. Rangeley stayed close to the Huskies pulled off a point run for 9-7 to 19-7 lead in first period and the "cold" Reddy shooters never came closer than eight points the rest of the road was 32-20 at intermission and after three periods.

Shooting figures which speak for themselves follow:

Gould: 21 10 12 1
Made 8 4 6

Rangeley: 10 17 18 2
Made 3 5 5

At the free throw line, Gould shot 12 out of 19 and the Lakers, all of 12. Each club had eight fouls in the first half.

Sharper outside shooting from the Lakers zone, Gould had 15, and Dave Robinson in double figures and Joey Mills and Kirk Ellis powered the Lakers to 13 and ten points respectively. There were 32 fouls called in the contest, 17 of them on the Huskies.
